ADD International invites you to a Global Disability Summit side event on:

BUILDING AND STRENGTHENING LEADERSHIP SKILLS OF WOMEN WITH DISABILITIES.
Lessons from ADD international’s work in Cambodia and Tanzania.

Join us for this powerful and inspiring event to talk about the ‘double discrimination’ women and girls with disabilities face, linked to both their gender and impairments. We will hear from activists in Tanzania and Cambodia about their experience rising up to transform change.

We will share powerful examples of journeys from vulnerability to agency. We will discuss what it really takes to harness the tremendous dynamism of women and girls with disabilities to combat the challenges they face.

We have a great line up of speakers including:

• Rachel Kean – Social Development and Governance Adviser, Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO)
• Sieng Sokchan - Disability activist, Cambodia
• Nuru Awadh - Disability Activist, Tanzania
• Rose Tesha - ADD Country Director, Tanzania
• Liz Sayce - visiting Senior Fellow at the London School of Economics
• Other speakers tbc

When: 17 February, 9.00 am to 10.15 am CET
To register a place click here.

Captioning and International Sign Language interpretation will be provided.